Art Unit: 3641

1. The restriction requirement mailed on 8/21/2006 is withdrawn and replaced with the following requirement in response to issue raised in applicant's traversal filed on 9/21/2006.
2. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Species A is illustrated in fig. 2. Species B is illustrated in fig. 3. Species C is illustrated in fig. 4. Species D is illustrated in fig. 5. Species E is illustrated in fig. 6. Species F is illustrated in fig. 7. Species G is illustrated in fig. 8. Species H is illustrated in fig. 9. Species I is illustrated in fig. 10. Species J is illustrated in fig. 11. Species K is illustrated in fig. 12. Species L is illustrated in fig. 13.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

3. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Art Unit: 3641

Claims 34-40 and 43-47 are directed to the species C embodiment (illustrated in fig. 4).

No species contains all of the features claimed in claims 41-42.

The following claim(s) are generic: Currently, no claim is generic to all species.

4. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: In order to qualify as a special technical feature, it must be established that this feature makes the claim patentable. Such has not yet been established. As such, the features of claim 34 are technical features that are common to all claims that depend from claim 34 but cannot be accurately described as a special technical feature until claim 34 has been established as being patentable.

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
